The Dragon Turns, Bites
A Fighting American
To Sea in a Sieve

By Arthur Brisbane
ENGLAND, GERMANY, Japan, China and every country are talking about Secretary Stimson's threat to fortify our possessions in the Pacific, the Philippines and Guam, under the very nose of Japan, since Japan's attack on China violates and puts an end to the agreement that followed the 1911 Washington conference.

THE CHINESE DRAGON or worm turned yesterday and surprised Japan, Chinese big guns in the Pacific began hammering the Japanese. The Chinese and the Japanese were reported to have been on the ground lost at Kiangwan.

IT TURNS OUT that the "Ione Chinese pilot" who attacked six Japanese airplanes, all by himself, was a young American, Robert M. Short of Lakeview, Wash.

WASHINGTON describes Senators Borah and Hiram Johnson and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania discussing politics, and "what is the best thing to do with President Hoover."

OF TWO INCIDENTS in the Japanese attack on Kiangwan, one made Chinese smile, the other did not. The first Japanese planes, flying over early in the morning.

CRIPPLED WIFE
SHOT HERSELF,
BOWERS SAYS

Asked Him To Make It Look

Tells Jury.

FEARED LOSS OF VOICE Shows No Emotion After Long Period of Questioning by Attorneys.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Feb. 26.—Roy E. Bowers, 38, accused of slaying his crippled wife, took the witness stand in common pleas court here today as the defense attempted to show that Mrs. Bowers had contemplated taking her own life.

Bowers, whose deafness prevented active questioning while he was confined to the county jail, was equipped with headphones while attorneys talked to him through a microphone.

Tells of Agreement
Bowers told the jury that he and his wife had entered into an agreement that if she should be found dead that it would be made to look like an accident. Bowers said his wife feared the loss of her voice as a result of the ailment that resulted in her arm being practically useless.

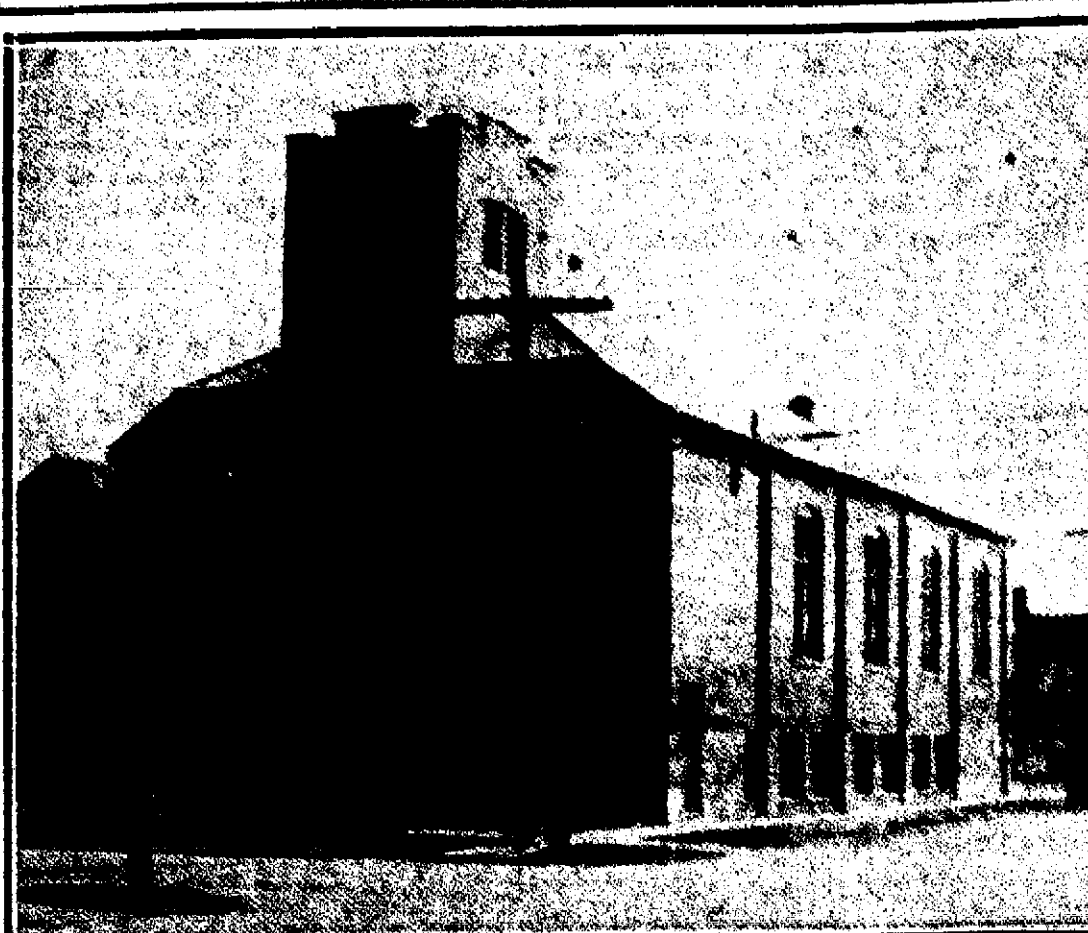

Asserts Innocence
"Did you murder your wife?" his attorney asked.
"No sir, I did not," Bowers quickly replied without any show of emotion.

WILL ORGANIZE NEW GUARD FOR THE

Mimes Enact Early Life of Washington at Home

The early life of George Washington, a youth, returns from a surveying trip. Washington's love for his home and his interest in farming were brought out in the scene. The last scene takes place after his marriage to Mrs. Martha Custis. The play is a short edition of a three-act drama by Percy McKay.

The cast follows: Dale Lambert, "George Washington," Miss Gladys Brobst, "Martha Washington" and "Mary Washington," mother of George; Miss Betty Crissinger, "Mammy Sal," Paul Knappenberger, "Lord Fairfax," Ernest Arndt, "Lawrence Washington" and "William Poole," Charles M. Weil, "Jacob Von Brumm," John Rife, "Adjutant Mure," Miss Iva Gist, "Fairfax," Mrs. Francis Hurst, "Ann Spearling," Miss Wanda Baldwin, "Elizabeth Dent," Walter Sage, "Bishop," Ralph Hinklin, "Humphrey Knight," Jay Vaughan, "Capt. John Posey," Robert Smith, "Zekiel," Robert Uncapher, colonial officer; Mary Lou Felt, "Patty Custis," Louise Knappenberger and Jimmy Hume, colored children; Jack Piersol, "Jack Custis," Charles Pulsford, a fiddler.

Between scenes, Mrs. Dale Lambert played groups of old songs. A picture of the cast, all in colonial costumes, was taken after the show.

The Mimes' next public production will be of "Dulcy," to be given the week of March 28 under the direction of W. W. Clarke.

The second of the series will be held at the Montgomery grange hall with officers of that grange putting on first degree work. Mr. Olive grange second degree work, and with Tymochtee grange officers in charge. Candidates from granges in the western division will be installed.

Clairdon grange will be host to the third of the series March 16. Bethlehem grange will confer the third degree. United grange the fourth, and Whetstone grange officers will be in charge.

At the conclusion of the series, the division of the county which has installed the most candidates during the series will be entertained by the losing side at a countywide meeting.

To Boost Interest

Eight of the county's 12 granges, embracing a membership of 1,221, will do degree work at the meetings. They will be scored on this work by E. A. Williams, deputy grange master for the county, and will not be obliged to put on degree work next fall for inspection purposes.

Williams said the series has been scheduled to stimulate interest in grange activity during a month in which farm work is comparatively light, and to build up grange membership.

Mrs. Harley finds out what Cellophane does for a Beauty Soap!

CAMAY IS SEALED IN CELLOPHANE JUST WHEN IT'S PERFECT FOR YOUR SKIN. IT'S ALWAYS AS FRESH AS FLOWERS FROM THE GARDEN!

"Your skin always looks as fresh as peaches and cream, Virginia!"
"That's because I use Fresh soap—CAMAY, you know. The lather is so much smoother and gentler!"

"It is marvelous what cellophane does for a Beauty Soap."
"This fresh Camay lather leaves my skin as fresh and soft-looking as Virginia's!"

Stale soap won't lather freely—and the lather is likely to be harsh. CAMAY, because it is just as fresh when it reaches you as it was when it was made, lathers luxuriously and instantly—and is gentler than any soap not wrapped in cellophane. Camay is so suave and bland that it leaves your skin like silk. And no matter how hard the water, Camay lathers lightning-quick!

Daily Proverb—"Rewards and punishments

Shanghai reports that women are fighting with the Chinese troops. No wonder the Japanese find the going hard.

Out in Rock Island, Illinois, a woman's watchdog gleefully wagged its tail and played about two intruders, who terrorized her for ten minutes until she divulged the hiding place of $31, which they carried off. The police out there might profitably look up all persons with whom the dog is known to be on friendly terms.

The superior court in Phoenix, Arizona, has denied a new trial to Ruth Judd and she has been sentenced to be hanged, from which it may be taken that the Arizona courts refuse to be parties to a travesty on justice, at least in the cases of those who commit murder in cold blood.

Sir Malcolm Campbell drove his Bluebird 11 at the rate of 253.965 miles an hour at Daytona Beach, Florida, Wednesday, or almost four and a quarter miles a minute. Any one who doesn't realize that this is going some should picture a machine moving eight and a half times around a half-mile track while the second hand on a watch makes the circuit of its dial.

From diplomatic quarters in London comes the prediction that Japan, "after her first military success at Shanghai," is likely to apply to the good offices of the League of Nations to secure a peaceful settlement of the Chinese dispute. If reports from Shanghai may be appraised at face value, it's liable to be some time until the league will be asked to get busy.

Canada has a population of 10,374,106, or at least that was the Dominion's population at the time of the taking of the census up there in 1921, against a population of 8,768,483 in 1921 and 7,206,643 in 1911. That's the kind of a gain to which the realtors in a boom town would refer as a steady, even growth!

If Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, got any comfort out of the visit he paid Senators Borah and Johnson in Washington, Thursday, he was so careful to conceal it that it escaped the attention of the Washington newspaper fellows. For some reason, Gifford's presidential boom isn't receiving the encouragement which one might assume would be given that of a great patriot.

Joe Filkowski, the Cleveland bandit captured in New York a day or two ago, denies that he is guilty of any of the long list of crimes charged against him. Had he any humor in his makeup, he might offer as corroborative proof of innocence that for nineteen years, or such a matter, he has escaped execution.

The Roosevelt Steamship company is seeking permission from the United States shipping board to substitute Le Havre for Cherbourg as the Leviathan's French port of call, which calls attention to another handicap from which the United States lines suffered in competing for transatlantic business. Boarding or quitting a vessel at a dock, which would be the case at Le Havre, and boarding or quitting a vessel by means of a tender, as is necessary at Cherbourg, are entirely different propositions.

France Squares Away Again.

The French, in a characteristic whirlwind of impetuosity, have patched up another government and instructed it to square away with the opposition. This time Andre Tardieu has the honor of heading the ministry. Pierre Laval, lionized in this country last summer, has been obliged to give up the title he graced so excellently—perhaps only temporarily. Premier Tardieu's ministry is the eighty-fifth in the history of the republic. There will probably be another change soon, and possibly M.
Laval will be head man the next time.

The in-and-out type of governmental control favored by the French is puzzling to Americans, who have a liking for permanency of control. Americans, like Germans, favor strong rule. A president, for instance, frequently is criticized for taking a negative attitude; rarely for taking a positive attitude. The French, on the other hand, have no liking for dictatorship in any form. They may not take their republicanism more seriously, but they take it straight.

A heavy-handed government frightens them.
Party structure and the French temperament combine to keep control constantly in a ferment. A ministry maintains itself only with difficulty, realizing all the while that defeat is imminent. In the long run, of course, fewer men actually govern the country than would be possible in the United States, where politics is an avocation and not an occupation, but the few are shifted constantly. That's the French way.

No Trespassing in China.

Secretary of State Stimson's public letter to Senator Borah on China is the administration's affirmation of intention to abide by the letter of the law as stated in the treaties covering the situation. The nine-power treaty and the Kellogg-Briand pact have been violated. No amount of explanation can alter the fact.

The Stimson letter tactfully sidesteps placing responsibility, but it leaves no doubt that the United States intends to guard its endangered treaty structure jealously. Japan can determine for itself whether the shoe fits or not.
Either a condition satisfactory to this country will be restored or naval limitation agreements will be abrogated, it is threatened.

The nine-power treaty and the Kellogg-Briand pact, in whose behalf the threat is made, are as unlike as day and night. The latter is an agreement prompted by the idealistic motive of abolishing war. The former is a business contract valuable because of its trade privileges.

In 1842 Chinese customs collections came under foreign control, specifically Great Britain's. Twelve years later control was broadened to include, among others, the United States. Money collected was used to pay China's foreign obligations. No provision was made for current expenses of government.

From such beginnings grew the nine-power treaty, providing for a "general revision of the Chinese tariff, to make it a more effective instrument of revenue, with the authority to increase it in return for the abolition of "likin."
"Likin" is a system of internal taxes upon the transit of goods within China. Obviously, countries which export goods to China found it a great handicap.

The signatories of the pact, in the present instance, are like a group which has erected "No Trespassing" signs on territory that does not belong to them. They opened China to trade by treaties backed up with guns. Japan is trying to do the same thing with guns alone.
It is in retaliation for this that the United States threatens to build a larger navy.

With the Socialists changing front and backing President Paul von Hindenburg for reelection, the menace of Hitlerism may not be so great as Germany as a whole has feared.

The "Passive" Candidate.

Democrats are showing little inclination to talk about Alfred E. Smith's decision to become an active instead of a receptive candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Republicans, however, only restrain themselves from whooping by a conscious effort.

The prospect of a genuine knock-down-and-drag-out fight at the Democratic convention brightened immediately with Mr. Smith's announcement that he will enter the New England and Pennsylvania primaries against Governor Roosevelt. More brightness was added when the titular Democratic leader admitted he would be on hand in Chicago to take personal charge of his forces.

Strangely enough, though Mr. Smith's and Mr. Roosevelt's seeming antagonism occupies so great a part of public attention at this time, there is a vast deal of open doubting concerning their chances to do anything more than provide a sideshow to the big exhibition that will come later. The potential candidacies of Speaker Garner and Newton D.
Baker are the subjects on which political conversations come to rest.

Next month, Governor Roosevelt will run against Mr. Smith in New Hampshire, Governor Murray in North Dakota and Speaker Garner in Georgia—three fights in which he will have the advantage of being on the ground first. Many things can happen before then, however, and more still later. Developments come rapidly in national politics, particularly when "passive" candidates suddenly decide to swing into action.

Brazil has granted women the right of suffrage, which is as it should be, but if the people of that republic are figuring that the result thereof is going to be the purification of politics, we up here can tell them from experience that they have another guess coming.

He Got Out the Vote.

Everything from prayers to threats and automobile rides to frank bribery has been tried to get out the vote. Despite the fact that a fair case can be made out for keeping emergency voters at home and letting those actively interested make the selections, the theory that a representative government isn't working right unless there is a heavy vote still is the accepted one.

A keen political blusterer in the city of Seattle, Washington, Victor Aloysius Meyers, a jeweler, has demonstrated what probably is the best way of any to get people interested in the ballot. He was defeated, but in a burlesque primary campaign for the nomination of mayor he lent enough bizarre color to the primary to give it a circus touch—and the people came.
Most politicians are dreary fellows in their relations with the public. They dare not be otherwise, lest accusations of flippancy in the presence of grave responsibilities be brought against them. Privately, they may be able to stand up with the best of boon companions, but let them transfer private habits to public practice and they either become political freaks or incompetents.

Seattle's burlesque candidate was a political freak. Voters rushed to the polls by the thousands to make sure that he didn't get the nomination—but they rushed, and that is the important thing. He got out the vote by giving them a good time and something more tangible to do than choose between twiddle-dee and twiddle-dum.

A warrant has been issued in Portland, Oregon, charging Dr. Clarence True Wilson, executive secretary of the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, with reckless driving, but the good doctor has no special reason to feel humiliated.
Most motorists drive recklessly at times. Still, come to think of it, reckless driving is hardly compatible with what might be expected in one who is a champion of temperance in all things.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER.

Editorial Opinion.

ROOMS MUST MATCH.

It is with some spiritual pain that we read the statement of a past president of the International Society of Master Painters and Decorators that the room of a man we assume, of course, that he means bedroom, should reflect and harmonize with the psychic complexion of the occupant. The society has just been holding its annual convention in Los Angeles, and some of the time, naturally, as is almost invariably the case with such assemblies, was devoted to spreading the gospel of trade ideas.
There are some outspoken persons who would call it propaganda.

"Homes, like people," said the past president, "must have souls these days." And so he went on to elaborate the idea that rooms ought to match the personality of their occupants. Strong rooms for strong men, delicate rooms for the more fastidious men. The big, strong, silent men who sleep in rooms dominated by the effete influence of pink and baby-blue color schemes are violating all the precepts of the cosmic law. All the time their souls are crying mutely for a solid and even stolid environment.

There are all kinds of rooms, and it is possible to devise even a sort of proud room to fit the proud and arrogant type of individual.
It gives a sadness to reflect on the vast numbers of men who through ignorance, neglect or sheer helplessness, must be going through the years passing all their hours of slumber amid surroundings that are in some subtle fashion corroding their souls. Their style is fashionably cramped, even though they remain in ignorance of the fact. Think of the proud and arrogant gentleman, for instance, who is housed in one of these pink bedrooms, or one so inadequately done up as to provide a flavor of unconscious meekness. What he needs is a decorative scheme based on a Louis the Quinze model, with an arrogant rug on the floor.
Placed as he is, he is a misfit and the chances are that in due time he develops an inferiority complex. In the end his pride and arrogance have suffered a ninety per cent. loss, and for all we know the world may have lost another Napoleon.

This is a subject, we think, which ought to be taken up for serious study by the ladies.
After all it is the women who supervise the details of home decoration and furnishing.
What can your average man do when he finds that his bedroom is all pink and fluffy? His soul may shrink, but he has to make the best of it. If what the past president of the I. S. of M. P. and D. says on the subject is true, there must be a lot of blighted souls in America. A refined, ladylike husband is naturally entitled to a delicately decorated room, but the women who have big, strong, silent husbands and want to keep them so should get them out of the pink and pastel rooms as soon as possible.—Providence Journal.

FRESH AIR FOR TELEPHONE BOOTHS.

Next to a Turkish bath, a closed telephone booth often seems the hottest spot on earth.
One emerges weak and perspiring. A perfect "telephone box," airy and sound-proof is now planned for London. It will be tried first in the new postoffice at Charing Cross.

Sound-proofing tends to make the booths airtight and stuffy. And they are generally placed "out of the way" in stagnant pools of air. The new scheme is to install a powerful exhaust fan in the room which will suck out the warm air and keep the booths well ventilated while in use.

If the plan is successful, fans will be installed wherever needed. Perhaps the movie type of refrigerating may be resorted to. In crowded sections where people queue up to use the telephone, it might be wiser to leave the old-style boxes—hot and airless—to insure that all calls are made with the utmost possible dispatch.—New York Times

Dinner Stories.

"There is nothing I enjoy more," remarked Senator Sorghum, "than talking about the forefathers of this republic."

"You seem to be especially happy when turning your talents in that direction."

"It is then that I can speak freely in praise of men who rank with me in history as fellow-statesmen. There's no fear that any of my remarks will be used against me in the course of current campaigning."

"You're looking downcast, old man. What's on your mind?"

"A piece of my wife's."

"Of course I believe in short hours," said the economic expert. "Yet I can't help wondering—"

"About what?"

"The situation this country might be in if George Washington had decided that he had no business to work more than five or six hours a day."

Dangers of "Parrot Fever."

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

During the last year there have been no epidemics of "psittacosis," or "parrot fever." However, occasional cases are still reported and many persons hesitate to purchase parrots as pets.

For people who love birds, this problem is a serious one. In order to reassure them, I would say that there is much unnecessary alarm concerning this matter.

The disease is not a new one. The last outbreak was the most severe ever recorded, but it is believed that such an epidemic will never occur again. Definite steps have been taken towards the prevention and spread of this disease.

The ailment is passed from a parrot to a human. Only a sick bird transmits it. Those responsible for the disease are sick birds that have recently been imported. As a rule, they show signs of illness, such as loss of appetite, toughing of feathers, sometimes cough and diarrhea.

Humans who have been infected are taken ill from six to fifteen days after exposure. The early symptoms closely resemble the onset of a severe cold or influenza. There may be violent headache, nausea and fever.

Frequently these cases develop a mild pneumonia. This form of the disease is dangerous to elderly persons. In a simple case, the pneumonia clears and the fever and other signs gradually disappear during the space of eight to ten days.

If you are anxious to purchase a parrot or other bird for your home, it is important to determine how long the animal has been in this country. If it is a recent importation it is best to determine from the health authorities whether or not it would be safe to purchase the pet.

According to the law these birds now must be examined before they are shipped to us, and again before they are landed. If there is any doubt as to their health, they are kept in isolation until it has been definitely determined they are free from this disease.

Many countries, including the United States, for a time prohibited the importation of any kind of birds likely to carry the infection. This temporary prohibition enabled the health authorities to control the epidemic. Importation is now permitted, but only under strict supervision. Proper care and sanitation during shipment is definitely prescribed. In consequence, the birds arrive in the best of health.

Please remember that although there is no danger attached to the purchasing of birds now, the only sure means of protecting society against the disease is to avoid contact with recently imported birds. This is particularly important if they appear in any way to be sick.

Birds that have been in this country for more than six months and have not been in contact with newly arrived birds, may be considered as free from the disease. The disease is never seen in birds that have been raised here.

There is no reason why you should not have one of these pets in your home, provided you take these necessary precautions.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

Anxious Mother. Q.—What would cause a little boy of five, apparently in the best of health, to perspire profusely just as soon as I put him to bed? His pillow and nightclothes are wet.
He is outdoors whenever possible and his room has plenty of ventilation. Two brothers died of consumption as well as my mother.

This may be due to nervousness, since you are sure that the child is well and healthy, otherwise, why not have him thoroughly examined so that definite advice can be outlined?

G.E.-Q.—What do you advise for a strained ligament?

A.—Rest, support and application of heat should give increased comfort and relief in this case. Your doctor will outline more specific treatment since he is familiar with your case.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Rome, Feb. 26.—The last stage in the work of salvaging the two galleys from Lake Nemi is under way. The second and larger galley, which was drawn up from the water several months back and has now again become waterlogged, will once more be freed from the water by means of pumping and carried by cables over a short road built for it to dry land on the shore. It will be put up near the first galley.

Mussolini has decided not to allow the lake to be further drained in order to excavate its bed. All the treasures which were on the galleys when they were sunk twenty centuries ago are in the mud. But the undertaking would be so costly that it has been abandoned.
The sum total of the work which was started with high hopes of recovering priceless treasures are by no means negligible, though they fall short of the promises made.

They are the recovery of the two ancient galleys, whose wooden structure offers many new features to those interested in naval architecture, it is now certain from the pictures of religious rites on the magnificent terra cotta tiles found in the smaller galley that it was dedicated to Diana, the goddess who had a temple on the shores of the beautiful lake. This kills once and for all the legend that it was a pleasure galley of Emperor Caligula.
Remains of a marble temple which evidently stood on one part of the deck are now preserved in the museum built over the ship.

The second galley was fitted with some kind of rowing arrangement, by means of a kind of wooden platform which protruded from the boat itself. This is interesting, but it does not solve the riddle archeologists have been puzzling over for years as to how the banks of oars were placed in the war galleys of the ancient Romans. Great hopes were entertained by archeologists in America and Europe that at least one of the sunken ships would have these mysterious banks of oars which are to be imperfectly seen in contemporary pictures of the triremes, or battleships with three banks of oars.

But to make up for this the museum on Nemi's shores exhibits many objects of intense interest. There is an enormous water cock complete with pipes which supplied the smaller galley with fresh water. The watercock was put into motion for the International News service and looks as modern as if it had just come from the workshop. It is made of brass.

Another delight for archeologists is the set of ball bearings which was attached to the anchor's windlass. Swedish ball bearings of today are on exactly the same model. A third object well worth the trouble of salvage is the double piston pump for ejecting the bilge water.

As the galley measured 185 feet by sixty and contained many heavy objects, including the marble temple, great care was taken to see that the water did not remain in the ship and a series of terra cotta pipes were built into the brickwork of the sub-structure. Pieces of the structure can still be seen. The bronze thermos which decorated the balustrade are of exquisite workmanship and give an idea of the beauty of the other decorations which lie imbedded in the mud of the lake.

Five smaller boats used for carrying passengers to and from the galleys have been seen during pumping operations and one has been recovered. It is of pine wood and almost modern in shape, being very much like the flat bottomed boats used in ports where there are no harbors.

The galleys were protected by a facing of copper sheets under which was a layer of tarred felt, the whole kept in place by flat headed nails of pure copper. They are still in perfect condition.

A Grazing Law of 1814.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

Not all of the area of Ohio was originally wooded. There were a few rather extensive tracts upon which, for some reason, timber did not grow. The early explorers, supposing this to indicate sterility of the soil, gave the name of "barrens" to these areas, though, as a matter of fact, they have been found to be anything but sterile. Madison and portions of Fayette county were so classed—counties that rank among the best farming districts in the state now.

Judging from an old statute found among the Ohio session laws for 1814, these areas produced good grass and were used as free range before the land was purchased and settled upon. Apparently owners of cattle came in from other parts of the state and even from beyond the state line. The fact that herds were brought into the state to graze caused some friction. The enactment shows that it was based upon a complaint from Fayette county.

It was charged that owners of the foreign herds sought not only grass for their herds, but also to escape taxation upon their property.
They planned their coming so as not to have their animals within the jurisdiction of the state at tax listing time.

The statute did not forbid bringing the herds in, even when they came from Indiana or Kentucky, but in order to secure the payment of taxes on them, each herd owner was required to report his animals to the county commissioners immediately on bringing them into the county, and the tax was then collected.
Failure to do so was punished by a fine four times the amount of the tax if it had been paid.

Petition Circulated To Get
Roll Call on State Control Plan.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The wet bloc of the house of representatives was within grasping distance of success today in its effort to secure a roll call on a state-control prohibition amendment to the constitution.

A hundred and eight names already have been signed to a petition filed yesterday, which seeks to have the house recall from the unfriendly judiciary committee resolution to submit the new amendment to the people. If 145 members sign the petition will be acted upon after March 14. It will take a majority of the house to bring the resolution to the floor. Such a majority is not expected, but the membership will have to be recorded on the question. This is the chief objective of the anti-prohibitionists.

Of the signers so far 57 are Democrats and 31 Republicans.

Where Does She Get Her "Pep?"

SHE doesn't look seventy. Nor feel that old. The woman who stimulates her organs can have energy that women half her age will envy!

At middle-age your vital organs begin to slow down. You may not be sick, simply sluggish. But why endure a condition of half-health when there's a stimulant that will stir a stagnant system to new life and energy in a week's time?

This remarkable stimulant is perfectly harmless. It is, in fact, a family doctor's prescription. So, if you're tired of trying every patent medicine that comes along, tell the druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a bit of this delicious syrup every day or so, until you know by the way you feel that your lazy life is again active, and your bowels are poison-free.

Men, women, and children who are run-down, who tire easily, who bilious spells or have frequent headaches, are soon straightened out when they get this prescription preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh laxative habit. (Syrup pepsin is all the help the bowels need, and you do not for the very bad habit of always taking cathartics.)

Keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin in the house, to take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. It is all that a great many people ever take to keep strong and vigorous, and absolutely free from constipation.

PLANS NEWSPAPER FOR BLIND READERS

Sightless College Student Maps Out Project in New York.

NEW YORK—"It just happens that I like the newspaper business better than anything else. I believe that I can make a decent living in the newspaper field, help other blind men and women to earn fair wages and perhaps open up new worlds to our thousands of blind fellow men."

words, that causes Bernard Krebs to plan to establish a daily newspaper for the blind when he is through college.

The majority of the nation's 64,000 blind are out of step with the world, the sightless sophomore student declared, and a day-by-day knowledge of the news may help them to take an active, profitable part in society.

The projected newspaper of Krebs, who was made totally sightless at the age of nine by an injury, would be independent and would be distributed free to the nation's blind, granted the paper was subsidized.

The staff of Krebs' paper would contain as many of the blind as could be accommodated with the addition of a few necessary staff members of ordinary vision.

Cartoons, comics and other purely entertainment features would not be feasible in a Braille paper, Krebs declared, but the sheet would be filled with a condensation of the day's news and special articles written by or of interest to the blind. Advertisements could be printed in a Braille paper to advantage, Krebs believed, although illustrations could not be used to good effect.

HERMIT DINES ON UNUSUAL TABLE

Coffin Bought in Advance Proves Convenient

By United Press MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—The food that sustains life in Albe's Schnocke, Texas hermit, is eaten from the top of the coffin that will hold his body.

"I'm going to eat my ninetieth birthday dinner off of my coffin-dining table soon," he said. Schnocke has used the coffin for a dining table for eight years. Eight years ago he rode into Perrin, bought his coffin, placed it on his wagon, sat on top of the rough box that covered the casket and rode home.

"That's to put me in when I'm dead," the hermit readily explains to frequent visitors.

The coffin is in his one-room house. One end is stacked with canned goods; the other is his dining table.

The coffin is only one of his eccentricities. Until recent years, he tended his cattle clad only in a burlap sack, with holes for arms and neck.

Two cowskins laid on the floor served him as a bed for 25 years. Then he bought a four-poster.

Artificial light never has lighted his cabin. He goes to bed at sundown and is up with the sun. Schnocke is a Civil War veteran. He was born in France, in 1842, but has lived near Perrin for 60 years.

Speaker Hits Parents Who Ignore Children who permit their children to roam the streets at night, otherwise show little interest in their moral welfare, were the theme of a speech by Judge Hale of Columbus, in an address to the Central Junior High School last night.

Hale, whose address was to a class the 1931-32 high school senior entered, said the young people today were primarily just as good, as at any time, but the increase in juvenile delinquency was due to the lack of interest on the part of parents and the lack of supervision of the young people. He said the number of temptations which have been thrust upon the modern life.

Many parents, he said, not only permit their young children to roam the streets at night, but allow them to, in order that they may be free to have their own parties and other entertainments. He cited the case of a young man from the moving picture show in a nearby city who he said had acquired a habit of bringing small children to the theater in the evening and after purchasing tickets for the children for two shows, would leave them there until their return from the party. The theater man said, according to the speaker, that he had had many times as many as 25 children curled up in the seats asleep at the close of the last show and he would frequently have to wait until 1 a. m. for the return of the parents.

The class of literature that is now being placed on the newstands was also assailed by the speaker, who named over nearly a dozen which he termed as "dirty, rotten, filthy books that were responsible for the tearing down of the moral character which the churches and the schools were constantly striving to build up." He charged the churches and schools with being indifferent to their moral duty in making no effort to check the publication of this type of reading.

FLASHES OF LIFE

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMSVILLE, N. Y.—The man who held up Mrs. Alma Wadsworth last week, robbing her of $25 was only feigning. He sent it back to her yesterday.

WASHINGTON—Miss Dorothy Bayless, 24, was married last night to Lieut. Oscar Rumbos, 26, in Argentina, which sounds absurd but is perfectly legal. It was a proxy matter and was arranged to facilitate Miss Bay's rather Mrs. Rumbos' entry into Argentina, for which country she will sail tomorrow. They'll be married there, just to be sure.

JOHNETT, Ill.—Warden Hill of state penitentiary lined up all the inmates and said: "One of you is a thief." This came as a bombshell to the murderers, hijackers, gangsters and crooks. The warden said somebody had stolen the prison's football and two football players. If the low person who did it fails to return the articles, there will be no more football.

PITTSBURGH—One of the nurses at Presbyterian hospital has a date for Saturday night with a burglar.

The fellow climbed into her room yesterday and was about to clamp his hand over her mouth and then reconsidered. "I can't hurt a girl like you," he said. "How about a date Saturday night?"

What is the PRICE OF BEAUTY?

Without health there can be little natural beauty. The wise woman knows that the condition of her body shows itself on her face, her complexion, and in her eyes.

She takes care to avoid constipation. This treacherous ailment frequently causes headaches, sallow skin, pimples, premature aging.

Try the pleasant "cereal way" to protect yourself from constipation. Science has proved that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron, which helps build up the blood.

The "bulk" in this delicious cereal is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than abusing your system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming!

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Harding Closes League Sked Against Shelby Tonight

SEVEN MEMBERS OF PRESIDENT SQUAD TO END SCHOOL CAREERS

Both Teams Fighting To Gain Nothing Worse Than Third Place.

Harding High school will take its last 1932 stand against North Central Ohio league competition tonight when the Presidents travel to Shelby to stage the second battle of the year with the Shelby Whippets.

Seven members of the varsity and reserve squads of Harding will appear on an N. C. O. court for the last time tonight. When the gun cracks to end the conflict, John Pickard, Don Lindsey, Jack Link, Freddie Vestal, Jay Howser, Dick Morgan and Junior Clay will have written final to their high school careers, with the exception of the district tournament games at Delaware next week.

Tonight's battle with the Whippets promises to be a continuation of the thrilling contests which have marked the circuit this season. Shelby handed the Presidents their first defeat of the season 25-25 in a first round game and the Boppers are anxious to reverse the decision. This, coupled with the fact that nothing worse than third place will be the reward for victory, assures a hard fought contest.

Mansfield has already clinched a tie for the championship by its victory over Bucyrus last night. Should Ashland win from Gallon tonight, as the dopesters figure, the Hilltoppers will own a half interest in the league crown. That will put the winner of the Harding-Shelby battle in the runner-up post of the race. Should Ashland lose however, it will give the Harding-Shelby game victory only a third place position.

Harding's principal task tonight seems to be stopping Jim Miller and Gus Culbertson, two of the league's scoring aces. Culbertson is leading the circuit now and Miller is right up with the leaders. Harding failed to stop Culbertson in the previous start but Jack Ling held Miller well in check. If these boys are held to reasonably low scores tonight a Harding victory is probable. If either breaks loose for a big score Harding will likely find itself finishing the season with a mark of 500 per cent in league competition.

The reserve games will start at 7:15 with the varsity clash coming an hour later.

NEW COACH

"Fritz" Crisler (above) has accepted an offer of Princeton University to coach the football team of the Eastern school. Crisler will sever his relations with the University of Minnesota to take up the task of attempting to pull the Princeton football team from their present state of depression. He is reported to have signed a contract calling for a salary of $12,000 a year.

CRISLER TAKES POST AS HEAD COACH OF PRINCETON FOOTBALL

Minnesota Grid Mentor Signs Three-Year Contract at Eastern School.

By The Associated Press. PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 26.—After several dismal football seasons, Princeton has broken away from alumni coaching with appointment of Herbert O. "Fritz" Crisler, as its new head football coach.

The appointment was announced last night by Thurston J. Davies, supervisor of athletics, who said he had been informed Crisler had signed a three-year contract.

Crisler, a University of Chicago graduate, has been head coach and director of athletics at the University of Minnesota.

Although Crisler said he considered the Princeton offer "too flattering to be refused," Davies announced that his salary would be "not in excess of $10,000 a year."

Since the days of Bill Roper, Princeton has been committed to the alumni coaching policy. The action of a special committee in selecting Crisler, is seen as the forerunner of a new era in Princeton football which has been at a low ebb for the past few years. After Roper resigned, Albert O. Wittmer, another Princeton alumnus, was appointed in his place but resigned last fall after one unsuccessful season.

Crisler faces a difficult task in building up a winning team at Princeton. In the past two seasons the Tigers have won only two games, both from Amherst. They face another stiff schedule next fall.

GASCO FIVE LOSES MT. GILEAD CONTEST

MT. GILEAD, Feb. 26 The Blayney Buick cagers took a 38-26 decision from the Marion Gasco quintet at Lovering hall here Thursday after trailing 12-7 at the end of the first quarter. Red Murray at guard led the scoring with six field goals and two free throws.

The Cardington Independents won a one-point victory over the Edison Independent team in a preliminary, 17-16, and the Cardington girls' Independents won from the Mt. Gilead girls 12-8.

Mansfield Sure To Share Title in N.C.O. League

Chalking up the fifth one-point victory in the last six starts, Mansfield last night clinched a tie for the basketball championship of the North Central Ohio league. The Tigers turned back the Bucyrus Redskins, 22-21, in a hard-fought battle on the Bucyrus court.

Bucyrus played a better than usual brand of basketball last night and threatened to oust the Tiger combine from the tie for the highest post. A basket by Hartman in the last minute of play, his only score of the game, pulled the game out of the tie for the Tigers by a one-point margin.

The teams played on even terms in the first period, both sinking a single basket in the quarter. Mansfield opened up in the second quarter and held a 14-9 lead by half time. Bucyrus came right back in the third period with a scoring spree that placed the Redmen back in the running.

Bob Seale, Bucyrus pivot man, gained the lead for Bucyrus with three minutes to play when he made good on a free throw, given him on a technical foul by I. Smith of Mansfield. Bucyrus attempted to play a stalling game within the last two minutes of play but Mansfield broke it up and gained possession of the ball under the Bucyrus basket. Hartman, giant Mansfield center, batted the ball in after five or six attempts giving the Tigers victory and nothing worse than a half interest in the league crown.

IT'S GROVE'S MOVE NOW, CONNIE SAYS

By The Associated Press. FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 26.—Lefty Grove and Connie Mack have had their fun with Grove's joking offer to play Connie a round of golf to settle their salary difference, and Connie's return suggestion that they stage the match in Chicago for a bigger gate, but now Connie's through talking about his holdouts.

"No compromise," his dictum, and he'll stick to it, he said.

FINAL OFFER MADE TO TARDY PITCHER

By The Associated Press. BLOOMING, Miss., Feb. 26.—President Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators counted on stopping his worries today over pitcher Bobby Burke as he held out.

Having made what he insisted was his last and positively final offer to the tardy hurler Griffith expressed confidence Burke would come to terms before today is out. The Washington club is in the market for another infielder. Griffith is awaiting word, meanwhile from the Tigers on the projected purchase of First Baseman Joe Judge whom the Senators would trade for Hayworth, Detroit catcher.

TWO MAKE DEBUTS IN SQUARE GARDEN

By The Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Samuel Fuller of Boston and Emilie (Spider) Pladner of France, make their Madison Square Garden debuts tonight with an eye on important matches yet to come.

Fuller, who once outpointed lightweight champion Tony Canzoneri in a non-title fight, may get another chance with the champion at stake, provided he gets by Ray Miller, Chicago veteran, tonight. Pladner, here for a chance at Al Brown's bantamweight championship, meets fiery little Antel Kovacs in the semi-final.

If he beats Kovacs, he will meet Brown for the bantamweight title, March 25.

"RASSLER'S" SKULL NOT TOUGH ENOUGH

By The Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—Tossed on his head in a bout, John Maxon, New York heavyweight wrestler, was in a hospital today with concussion of the brain.

Maxon was carried out unconscious last night after he had been hurled to the mat by Ed (Strangler) Lewis, after the feature bout had gone 27 minutes, 25 seconds.

LUMPKIN, KRUSKAMP HEADLINE MAT CARD NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Former College Football Stars Return Here Second Week in Succession.

Answering the demands of the spectators of last Monday night's match, the wrestling promoter here has signed Father Lumpkin and Hardy Kruskamp to battle in the main go of the weekly toe twisting program at the Shovel next Monday night. Kruskamp, former Ohio State football star, and Lumpkin, ex-gritiron great of Georgia Tech, put on a sizzling 45 minutes of warfare last week in the semi-final and fans were almost unanimous in asking their return in the feature bout this week.

With Lumpkin and Kruskamp in the ring at the same time, almost anything is likely to happen, and generally does. Both of these former football stars are noted for their slam bang type of grappling and each claims the flying tackle as the favorite weapon. The first to connect with one of these deadly flying tackles is generally the one to win the fall. Wrestlers who can take these smashes, which generally terminate around the midsection, and come back for more are few and far between. It isn't being done.

Father Lumpkin gained the decision over Kruskamp in the match last week by scoring the only fall in the 45 minutes of battling. Whether he can duplicate the feat in the two hour match is another question, one that won't be decided until Monday night.

In the 45-minute semi-final next Monday, a pair of newcomers will display their wares before the Marion grunts and groan fraternity. Sailor Arnold, claimant of the U. S. navy championship, will tackle Martin Zilkhoff.

This pair will provide the 45 minutes of warm up activity for a crowd and unless they wrestle in a different than usual manner their 45 minutes of toe twisting will provide plenty of excitement. Zilkhoff and Arnold are heavyweights and both are tough. They like to use all the rough stuff they know and they know plenty. A slam bang battle is almost a certainty when these two climb into the same ring.

BANKS' TEAM WINS RIFLE CLUB SHOOT

Bob Banks turned in the high individual score last night as the No. 1 team of the Marion rifle association scored a victory over the No. 2 combine of the same club. The No. 1 team scored 1007 points to 877 for the opposition.

The scores of the match are as follows:

Team No. 1: Banks, 190, William E. Marks, and A. Van Kleek, 173, J. L. Bowles, 170, J. H. Kohler, 157 and L. Hartley, 135.

Team No. 2: J. M. Martin, 176, George Underwood, 172, William Loop, 152, J. Rogers, 148, O. E. Bush, 123 and J. Kern, 106.

The next shoot will be held on Tuesday, March 1.

DRUMM WINS AGAIN IN BILLIARDS PLAY

Blanchard "Doggie" Drumm added another victory to his long list in the Ohio pocket billiards league last night at Mt. Vernon. Drumm defeated Newman 125 to 61. The winner turned in two high runs, the first of 36 and the second of 29. Newman ran 22 for his high run.

Drumm will play Bergandine of Plain City tonight at the Recreation billiard parlors here.

COAST OUTCLASSED MIDWESTERN STARS

By The Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Two midwestern athletes today had stepped into the athletic spotlight by dominating a track meet at which the Los Angeles Athletic club squad had been billed as the main attraction.

Ralph Metcalfe, Chicago Negro, and Bob Rodgers, former University of Illinois star, furnished upsets last night to win the sprint and hurdle medley series, respectively, at the second annual Illinois national guard and naval reserve meet.

The Los Angeles athletes won four events, but no team championships were awarded. Metcalfe swept the sprint series by taking the 40, 50 and 60 yard dashes. George Simpson, former Ohio State star, had to be content with a second and two thirds.

GAUTHIER, DETRICK TO TEACH COACHES

By The Associated Press. DELAWARE, O., Feb. 26.—A school for Ohio high school basketball and football coaches will be conducted at Lakeside this summer by two Ohio Wesleyan university athletic officials.

George Gauthier, head football and track mentor will teach the grid game and Ray Detrick, basketball coach, the cage sport. The school will begin Monday, June 13 and continue for two weeks.

Gauthier's reputation as a grid coach is nationwide. Over a period of 11 years his teams have won five championships.

Detrick, likewise, is widely known in his 11 years of coaching, six of them at Ohio Wesleyan. He has never had a quintet finish lower than second place in its particular league. At Wesleyan his Bluejays twice have tied for the Buckeye title. At Mount Union he won three Ohio conference championships.

Schaaf Clashes with Stribling in Chicago Ring

BY WILLIAM WEEKES

Associated Press Sports Writer. CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Ernie Schaaf attempts the loftiest hurdle of his drive toward the heavyweight throne tonight by engaging W. L. (Young) Stribling, the noted Georgian, in a 10 round struggle at Chicago stadium.

The struggle literally placed both fighters on the pugilistic spot, notably Schaaf. Victory would make him probably the most formidable contender for the heavyweight crown after Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey finish their title argument in June. Defeat would force him to the sidelines for at least another year.

Stribling turned back by Schmeling last July, is hitting the comeback trail and realizes he can't afford another setback.

So both fighters are out to win by knockouts and nothing else. Because of his greater experience, ring generalship and his reputation in Chicago rings, Stribling was ranked as a slight favorite. Schaaf, however, was expected to have two big advantages—about 18 more pounds in weight and the confidence built up by his great knockout sweep through the heavyweight ranks.

Casey Back at Old "Hangout"

By The Associated Press. NEW YORK.—Back on the old home grounds at last, Casey Stengel, new assistant manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, should add something to the "color" characteristic of all Flatbush teams.

The always pugnacious and lively Casey, who last year managed the Toledo Mudhens in the American association, was taken on by Max Carey, new Brooklyn manager, just 20 years after his first connection with the Dodgers.

Back in the winter of 1911-12, Stengel was drafted by Brooklyn from Aurora of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, and became a regular on the club after two years of seasoning in the minors.

He was with the Dodgers for six seasons. He then was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates, and started a baseball junket that included stops with the New York Giants, Boston Braves and finally Toledo. The high spot in Stengel's career was in the 1923 world's series between the Giants and New York Yankees. Casey personally accounted for two victories with home runs.

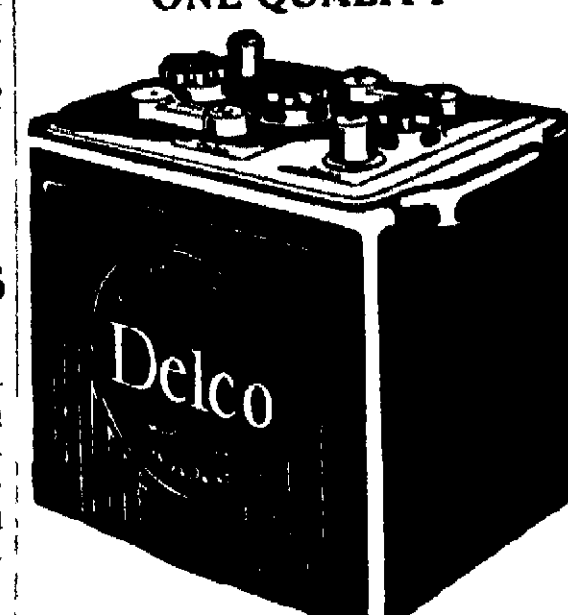

Casey played in the outfield with his new boss, Carey, while with the Pirates.

To Study Cage Rules.

By The Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Basketball rules will undergo another operation or observation in Chicago, April 1 and 2. The seventh annual meeting of the national association of basketball coaches will be held during those dates.

Al Hobeelman of Baltimore, Md., and Joe Goudreau of Cleveland, both dangerous challengers, were paired in the other contest. Finals will be played Saturday.

TROTSKY SAYS STALIN RULE IS "TOTTERING"

Makes Statement Following Drastic Exile Decree of Soviet Chief.

BY FRISCILLA RING
Associated Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press)

PRINKIPO, PRINCES ISLAND, Turkey, Feb. 26.—The rule of Joseph Stalin, guiding spirit of the Communist party in Soviet Russia, is "thoroughly shaken," Leon Trotsky told me he believes, and he cites this as the reason for the issuance of a decree at Moscow a few days ago formally confirming the exile of himself and of nearly two score other lesser former Russian leaders.

Breaking his ban on interviews, Trotsky, former Bolshevik war lord, made the most direct attack on Stalin he has made in any of his rare talks with press representatives during his exile. Trotsky is "camping out" on this island, working on the history which he has been writing. He looks older and thinner than when he arrived three years ago, but far healthier. His voice was quiet, but the sentences were emphasized by the flashing rise and fall of his eyebrows in the wide expanse of his forehead.

"I like a Fair Fighter"

"THAT'S one of the things I like most about Chesterfields... the attitude of the people who make them. They positively lean over backwards to be fair and square.

"I've been watching their advertisements for years. And do you know the thing that struck me most forcibly? They're so reasonable! Just a plain straightforward statement of facts. No wild claims... Nothing that's hard to believe!

"I wouldn't want to be a competitor of Chesterfield! They make too good a cigarette! I really believe they're the mildest I ever tasted.

"I can smoke Chesterfields any hour of the day or night... They're so mild, I don't even bother to keep track of how many I've smoked. They must be purer, too... they certainly taste better to me!"
